Reference – Mark Dalzell – Nivsta Boards

Mark Dalzell visited Campbells Bay Primary during Term 3 to showcase the Nivsta Boards he has created.

Children who were interested came along at lunchtime to see how to use these boards.

The aim was to show some of our older children the many uses of the board so that they can in turn show some of the younger children.

Mark explained the rules and was able to show them some skills and drills that required co-ordination and concentration. After attempting these he introduced a competitive element with games that can be played with 2 players. Lastly he showed the children some tricks to try.

All the options for using the board were easy to set up, requiring the board, a tennis ball and some chalk for drawing lines on the playground. Some games involved the alphabet and spelling words, others involved numbers and addition. This means that the children can be outside doing something physical whilst also having to engage their brains. Best of all it is fun. With so many different ways to use the board there are plenty of options for all children to have a go.
